PHYSICIAN WEDS A GOOD SHOWING

BRIDE A KINGSTON LADY

Marriage of Dr. R. Hamilton Mackerras to Miss Jessie Cybella Craig of Kingston, Ontario, Sept. 18—Arrive Home Next Week.

Word has been received in this city of the marriage of Dr. R. Hamilton Mackerras, a well known and popular physician in Sierra Madre, to Miss Jessie Cybella Craig, of Kingston, Ontario, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mr. W. G. Craig of that city, at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, Sept. 18. The ceremony took place in the drawing room, which was a mass of white flowers, ferns and palms. Rev. R. J. Craig, uncle of the bride, officiated, assisted by the Very Rev. Principal Gordon of Queen's University, an old and dear friend of the groom's father. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a beautiful wedding gown with a foundation of white satin clouded with palest pink chiffon, the robe itself being a princess one of honiton lace with designs in true lover's knots of chiffon. A tulle veil had twisted satin ribbon bands, and orange blossoms fell from either side in quaint Dutch style. She also wore the groom's gift, a pearl and sapphire ring. The bride's flowers were white bridal roses, with maiden-hair ferns and Lillies of the Valley. Miss Kathleen Kirkpatrick was the bridesmaid and carried pink carnations. The best man was Mr. Arthur Craig, cousin of the bride. Only relatives and close friends of the bride were present.

After the wedding breakfast Dr. and Mrs. Mackerras left for Montreal and other cities. They expect to arrive in Sierra Madre next Monday morning, when the doctor will resume his practice and receive the congratulation of his many friends in this city.

Mrs. Mackerras and the bride will be at home to receive callers next Thursday and Friday afternoons at their home on Central avenue.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Prof. Lewis Thwaites at Church of the Ascension October 8.

On Tuesday evening, October 8, at 7:45 p. m., Mr. Lewis Thwaites will give an organ recital at the Episcopal church in this city, to which the public is cordially invited. Those who were so fortunate as to attend the recitals given last winter by this master of the organ will welcome this intelligence and avail themselves of the opportunity offered.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT

Gratifying Growth of the Public School—Large Gain Over Last Year—New Seats Ordered by the School Board.

The public school opened with a good increase over the enrollment of last year. The first week of the last school year showed three rooms, with an enrollment of 34 in the first, second and third grades; 41 in the fourth and fifth grades and 19 in the seventh and eighth. This year there are four teachers, and the enrollment shows 29 in the first and second; 19 in the third and fourth; 33 in the fifth and sixth, and 30 in the seventh and eighth. These figures were for yesterday, before the close of the week, and in addition there were a number of pupils who secured a list of books required, but had not regularly entered.

Last year, starting with 94, the highest number enrolled in September was 104, and the high water mark of the year was reached in May, when there were 124 in the school. At the close there were 109, or less than the initial enrollment this year.

The seating capacity in most of the rooms is now fully taken, in one room there being four or five more pupils than seats. But this state of affairs is only temporary as Mr. Hosmer of the school board, has ordered extra seats and the large and airy rooms will soon be filled.

Principal Coates spoke of the large number of children who were entering the school for the first time, while many of the children of last year have not yet returned to the city. It is doubtful if the present teaching force will be sufficient to carry the school through the year.

Short But Lively.

A lively runaway occurred Wednesday afternoon when a team attached to a wagon of the Levitia Mineral Water Company started down Baldwin avenue. The tongue of the wagon broke, starting the team. One of the occupants was thrown out. At the corner of Baldwin and Central the horses turned, landing in front of Yerxa Bros. store in a heap, but suffering no serious injury. The wagon, which was heavily loaded, was not overturned and no further damage resulted.

Consider Liquor Question.

A meeting was held at the home of Mr. L. Dietz Monday evening, called to organize a Civic League. The principal matter discussed was the proposed hotel liquor license election.

HEALTH OFFICER

DR. T. J. COFFEE APPOINTED

Trustees Name Head of Health Department—Pass Ordinance Calling Special Election—Transact Other Important Business.

Dr. Titian J. Coffee was named by the trustees last night as the official head of the health department of the city. Ever since its appointment the board of health has been handicapped in its work by reason of the fact that no health officer had been appointed, but now that the vacancy has been filled many necessary matters will be looked after.

Ordinances were passed ordering street work done on Mountain Trail and Baldwin avenues, and also one requiring mufflers to be placed over the exhausts of gasoline engines.

The ordinance calling a special election on the hotel liquor license question was taken up and passed. The election will be held on Thursday, the 31st day of October, the polling place being at the City Hall. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. until 6 p. m. of that day. The following gentlemen will serve as election officers: A. A. Rice and Irving Ward, inspectors; V. L. Graham and F. T. Sibley, judges; Marcus W. Copps and W. E. Deutsch, clerks, and F. C. Lehman and L. E. Steinberger, ballot clerks. Mr. L. Dietz, deposited his personal check for $75 to guarantee the expenses.

A bill was introduced to fix the time and place for holding meetings of the board of trustees, fixing the regular meetings for the second and fourth Thursdays at 8 p. m.

An ordinance relating to the trimming of trees and keeping streets and sidewalks free from weeds and grass was referred to committee.

Claims of City Clerk J. J. Graham for $200, and City Attorney Walter F. Haas, for $300, were allowed and ordered paid.

Trustee Camp was appointed a committee to interview the Pacific Electric company relative to the speed of cars on the city streets, it being stated that the high speed frequently attained was a grave menace to the public.

The duties of Cashier H. G. Flint of the First National Bank are becoming almost as numerous as those of the city marshal. City Treasurer L. C. Torrance has appointed him as deputy city treasurer, and last night the trustees confirmed the appointment. Mr. Flint is now authorized to pay duly authorized claims against the city.

Big One Got Away.

A. L. Caskey and sons, Irving and H. W. Caskey, spent Monday at Long Beach, enjoying the fishing advantages.

Brief City News.

Did you go to "see the animals" Monday?

Mead & Gill are unloading a car of coal this week.

Miss Elsie Caskey visited in San Pedro last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Casad visited in Covina last week.

Miss Hilda Blumer left Sunday of this week for an extended Eastern visit.

Miss Gladys Humphries returned home after a four months visit in the East.

Mr. J. G. Blumer and son expect to return from Ocean Park the first of the week.

Geo. F. Ross, of Pomona, visited in our city Wednesday evening and Thursday morning.

Mrs. R. H. Craig, who has been stopping at Huntington Beach for a time, has returned to the city.

Mr. P. R. Davidson and family of Cleveland, Ohio, are the guests of his sister, Mrs. W. P. Caley.

H. L. Caskey left Tuesday for San Anselmo, where he completes his course in the theological college at that place.

Mrs. G. W. Smith and daughter, Miss Mabel, have been visiting at the home of R. F. Allen and wife in the Twycross cottage.

Mrs. W. R. Humphries, of El Paso, Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. George Humphries, returned home Thursday.

W. W. Coates and family returned from Pomona, where they have been spending the summer vacation, Saturday evening, in order that the Professor might resume his duties at the school Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Bentham, who have been at La Jolla for a few weeks' rest after the serious illness of Mr. Bentham this summer, will return to Sierra Madre next Monday, very much improved in health.

Greer Caskey, Irving Caskey and their families, Adolphus Kershaw and Miss Marie Caskey, who spent two weeks camping near Big Rock Creek in the Antelope Valley, have returned home. A deer and about thirty-five fine mountain trout are the rewards.

The editor of the News had fish for lunch, fish for dinner, fish for breakfast, fish for—well, it all happened because H. W. Caskey drew forth a large portion of the available supply from the big salt pond Monday, and kindly requested us to assist in reducing the visible supply. Thanks!

A number of our people took in Ringling Bros.' circus in Los Angeles, Monday. Personally we were not of the number, but will wager it was the same old chestnut—pink lemonade, popcorn, and balloons, the funny clown with eight yards of comfort calico in the other side of his trousers, the daring girl in pink tights who rides the white horse and jumps through the paper covered hoops, and the jay from somewhere who is not supposed to be down on the program until his turn comes, and all this with the dust so thick in the ring that the Roman chariot race looked like a double action sand auger.

Judge Landis of Chicago has refused to grant the motion of Attorney General Bonaparte to discharge the federal grand jury called to consider the connection of the Alton railway with the granting of rebates to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. While instructing it that it had no further duties to perform in that connection, the judge remembered a remark made by James Moffit, president of the Standard Oil Company that other manufacturers were equally guilty with the Standard, and accordingly issued a subpoena for Mr. Moffit to testify before the jury along this line. Important developments may follow.

Several of the large railroad companies are said to be planning the establishment of schools for the education of operators and other employees. We do not question their ability to find pupils and to successfully educate them; also to secure their services when so educated—for a time. But if they think they can by this means get a cinch on keeping these employees in their service when conditions are not to the liking of the employed, we fear they are destined to meet with grave disappointment. The same method has been adopted in other cases and with only a small measure of success.

If reports be true, in the next municipal election in San Francisco, money will flow like water in the Owens river aqueduct. It is said that corporations involved in the graft prosecutions have agreed to raise a fund of half a million dollars to elect an administration favorable to their interests. Especially are these corporations desirous of defeating and retiring District Attorney Langdon. The result will be watched with great interest.

One of the urgent needs of Sierra Madre is a thoroughly modern and up-to-date hall, in which can be held lodge meetings and various other gatherings of a public and social character. We are informed a movement is on foot by a local organization looking to the erection of a building which might supply the needed quarters, but plans are not as yet ready for publication. However this may be, such a move would no doubt be a financial success, and we trust it will be carried into execution in the near future.

The grand jury which has made itself famous in bringing to task the San Francisco grafters, thinks it has done its full share of work in that line, and wants to be discharged. The prosecution is anxious to retain this body in active service, but may yield to the demand for its discharge. This jury has done good work.

The members of the Los Angeles Weekly Press association, to the number of about fifty, are planning an excursion to San Francisco, leaving Los Angeles Wednesday evening, October 9. The party will remain in San Francisco until Sunday night, arriving home Monday morning.

The press humorists, on the occasion of their visit to Riverside, are said to have eaten all the oranges in sight in that locality. They say the effect will be in evidence on the 17th of March.

"Davy," the big baboon on the Midway at Venice, has developed an appetite for cigarettes. Some men may have degenerated to this, but we didn't think it of a baboon.

Have you heard anything about the new Sierra Madre booklet? Ask the Board of Trade.

Not Always.

Is marriage a failure? The answer is in the wide, staring eyes of that dimpled bundle in the cradle. Marriage a failure? Ask that young mother as she croons over her first-born. Ask the white-face little woman in black over there as she kisses the cheeks of her stalwart son and sends him into the world to conquer. "All is lost but you, Mary," chokes out the gray-haired victim of a business collapse. An arm steals about his neck and a wrinkled hand strokes his brow and the sweetest lips he ever knew whisper words of soulful sympathy and courage in his ear. Ask him about marriage. Artesia News.

Work Together.

Either run a town with a vim or sell out and loaf. One thing must be done—run the town for all it is worth; get up steam and keep it up. Do you want trade? Bid for it. Do you want business to come to town? Encourage what you have. Do you want a prosperous town? Then never permit jealousies to rule your actious, but work together for common prosperity and mutual benefit. Some may swallow hard to do this, but a town will not prosper with its people all torn up with petty jealousies.—El Monte Gazette.

More Men than Women at the U.

A very significant thing regarding the student enrollment at Berkeley this year is the continued increase in the percentage of men as compared with women. This year sixty-two per cent of the regular undergraduate body are men. Last year the percentage was fifty-nine, and the year before fifty-seven. The total enrollment at the University of California, graduate and undergraduate, is 2,598, as against 2,474 a year ago at this time. The increased number of men does not seem to be due to any disinclination on the part of women to attend the university, but rather to the new fields opening up to men. In the last few years the university has developed new courses in commerce, architecture, irrigation, forestry, sanitary engineering, electricity, and mining engineering.

The authorities of the university have made an investigation of the scholarship records of the athletes of the university for the past two years, and have found some very interesting facts. In the two years 97 freshmen have played on freshmen teams, which include football, track and rowing. Of this number but five have failed to come up to the scholarship requirements, which makes a better showing than that among non-athletic students. In the two years 160 men have been either on varsity or freshman track teams, and of this number not a single case of failure has been recorded. The failures of football men have not been any greater than that among the average students of the university. To sum up: the total number of cases investigated was over 200, and the percentage of those who failed to meet the scholarship requirements of the faculty was a little less than five, which is slightly better than the usual record of students in the university.

After Teddy, Jr.

Minnesota game wardens were very busy for a few days last week looking for Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who, it was reported, was on a hunting expedition in that state without complying with the formality of taking out a hunting license. It was claimed that he had left Duluth for Coleraine with the object of hunting. Investigation showed that he did visit Coleraine and spent two days there, but so far as can be learned by the game and fish commission he did no hunting. Coleraine is one of the mining towns which sprang up as if by magic, and the theory is that he wanted to see a part of Minnesota's famous mining country and had no thought of doing any hunting. When the report was received that he had gone out for a hunting trip the commissioners notified the game wardens in that vicinity to investigate, as he had not taken out a hunting license. After a thorough investigation no evidence of any illegal hunting by Mr. Roosevelt was found.

A millionaire New Yorker recently visited the home of his boyhood down on the farm in Indiana and discovered there the door of the old woodshed upon which he had, in the days of his youth, carved his initials. He carried it home with him to be set up in his mansion in the metropolis, as a pleasant reminder of his youthful days. To most of us that old woodshed—well the door was the drop-curtain to scenes we would fain blot from our memory.

A Widespread Scientific Hoax

By Felix J. Koch
In Scientific American

While scientific hoaxes of every sort are heard of and overthrown from time to time, there is one "fake," at least, which has managed to survive well on to a quarter century, and having crept universally into the histories, ethnologies, and inthropologies, will doubtless require many years for its complete overthrow in the minds of the public. This hoax was the plot of a simple miner in Calaveras county, California, a good many years ago, and it has been perpetuated by the most careful scientists as the famous "Calaveras skull."

Almost unknown to fame, there now lives in Los Angeles an assistant rector of the Episcopal Pro-cathedral, the Rev. Mr. Dyer, to whom belongs the credit of exposing the Calaveras imposition.

Mr. Dyer who is now a man quite well along in years, tells his story as follows:

SECTION 1. The Board of Trustees of the City of Sierra Madre deems it to be required by the public interest and convenience and hereby orders that the following street work be done, to-wit:

1st. That said Mountain Trail Avenue, from the north curb line of Central Avenue on the south to the south curb line of Mira Monte avenue on the north, including all intersections, (except such portions of said street and intersections as are required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, and, also, excepting such portions as have already been graded to the official fine and grade, oiled and accepted by said city), be graded and oiled in accordance with the plans and profiles of such work on file in the office of the city, now they fooled everybody about the famous skull. They, however, assumed that I and everyone else now knew that it was all a trick, and no longer attempted to disguise the facts, as they were glad they had had a little laugh over the effect of it.

What they had said convinced me that the trick was as stated. On my return to Los Angeles, therefore, I called on an old gentleman they had mentioned as having had a hand in it, and by recalling certain incidents to him, got him to recount the hoax.

"His story was a typical one of the old mining camps. The skull, he said had been placed by Scribner in Matson's mine at Angels Camp, to fool Matson. This man Matson was a blacksmith, who, when work was dull, would dig a bit deeper down in his shaft. Scribner, therefore, dug into the debris at the bottom of the mine and hid the skull where Matson's pick must strike it. Matson, as per the plotter's plan, went down the shaft very shortly after, struck into the earth, and the first thing his pick brought up was the skull.

"Of course Matson was astonished. The skull, he saw at once, could not have grown there, nor could it have fallen there. Matson, by the way, was really an intelligent man, one of the great number of men who had come out here to make their 'pile,' and then quit the country as soon as possible. He recognized the possible value to science of the skull, and took it to Scribner's partner, who took it to Scribner, telling him of the find. The joker kept his secret, and the fame of the skull spread. Gradually both the story and the cranium came into the possession of a certain Dr. Jones, of Murphy's Camp. When State Geologist Whitney came through that part of the state, he was made acquainted with the find, and secured the valued treasure. He, after investigation of the place of finding and the nature of the rock, gave credence to the tale, and proclaimed the finding of the skull of a man of the Pliocene period.

"It remained for a poet, Bret Harte, to hit at the truth—in a humorous poem suggesting that the skull was that of a Digger Indian. Scientists the world over, however, felt assured that the oldest human remain now known was that of this creature of the Pliocene era. Only Prof. Le Conte, of the State University, was dubious, and his scruples were based on a feeling that there never had been definite proof that the skull had been found where stated. He, however, described what facts were known to him, and let the question remain open. Meanwhile the Smithsonian Institution sent men to take samples of the earth from the surface at Angeles Camp, and at different depths in that shaft. The wiseacres also inspected the skull, and found some earth inside it. This they took away to analyze, but no one knows what their tests proved. Possibly they learned that there was a teratoma of the earth of to-day down in the bowels of the Pliocene strata, a statement so ponderous that they felt it would not do to make it public. But whatever was found, the tests were not made known.

"From time to time one has heard doubts expressed about the skull. The old men of the camp locality have long known the truth, and told it to anyone who would ask and listen. It is one thing, however, to claim a discovery, and have it taken up by the press, and quite another to get a denial as widely spread. When I discovered the facts, Scribner had been dead several years, and at rest back in New York State. At the time of his funeral, I was told, they pronounced quite an oration upon his career at Angeles camp, when, again the story was told, and his sister has written me that she too for a long time knew the truth about the skull. I first told the facts to a reporter of the Los Angeles Times, but history seems to stick to the delusion. I visited Angeles Camp for the last time in the eighties. Near the foot of the camp there was then still an Indian burial place (there having been an Indian village nearby), and skulls could readily be obtained.

"As to the skull, there are pictures of it in the reports of the Smithsonian Institution, and from these it is evident that the Indian was a Digger, and that he had died of violence, having been crushed on the head by a heavy bludgeon, in such wise as to cause him to throw the head far back, so that it is on a level with the spine, a bit of the backbone still remaining.

White Elephants.

A well known society woman of Los Angeles recently announced a "White Elephant Party." Each guest was to bring something that she could find no use for, but which was too good to throw away. The party would have been a great success but for an unlooked for development which broke it up. Eleven out of the eighteen guests brought their husbands.—Gardena Reporter.

THOROUGHBRED BULL.

California Promotion Boy Awarded to
J. F. Adams of Oregon.

California has lost a fine, thoroughbred, registered Holstein bull, but what is California's loss is Oregon's gain, for the bull is now at the home of J. F. Adams, a Tule Lake, Oregon, farmer, who won him at the National Irrigation Congress by making the best exhibits of the products of a single irrigated farm. This prize went to Adams from the California committee which offered the bull, California Promotion Boy, to the man who showed best what an irrigated farm could do. California farmers were not allowed to compete for prizes because California was the host on this occasion and it would not have looked well to keep all the fine prizes at home. There were quite a number of competitors for this prize, for California Promotion Boy is of the kind of stock that farmers are anxious to get hold of, and while there were good exhibits, Adams made such a fine display that the judges had no difficulty at all in making the award. The bull was turned over to Adams by the authorities of the Congress and has been sent to Tule Lake where he will head the herd on Adams' farm.

But One is the Limit.

Horatio and Rosecranz, two employees of the News, were discussing the deer hunting proposition one day this week.

Horatio, who is a thorough sportsman, said he was going deer hunting Saturday night, whereupon Rosecranz quietly remarked that he believed he would re-serve his deer hunting for Sunday evening; that the season was always open, and that one was not by law confined to bucks.

After Paper Trust.

"Uncle Sam" is after the alleged paper trust, the department of justice having several experts in the field getting evidence before the first of the year, when the attorney general will ask the assistance of the American Newspaper association, which passed a resolution calling for a prosecution of the combine. The General Paper Company, known as the trust, was dissolved in 1906.

SAFETY DEVICES.

Board to Test Block Signals and Automatic Stops.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has appointed a board of experts to conduct experimental tests of block signal systems and other safety devices used on railroads in the United States, as provided for by act of congress last winter. The members of this board are Prof. Mortimer E. Cooley of the University of Michigan; Azel Ames, Jr., signal engineer of the New York Central railroad; Frank G. Ewald, consulting engineer of the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission, and B. B. Adams, editor of the Railroad Gazette, says the Scientific American. Prof. Cooley has been named as the chairman of the board. Mr. W. F. Borland, who has been designated by the commission as secretary of the board, has been employed by the commission for the past five years in charge of safety appliance work. A meeting of the board was called for Friday, July 12, when organization was completed and a plan of work outlined. In the appointment of this board of experts, the commission had the co-operation of the American Railway Association. A sub-committee of that association went to Washington and conferred with the commission with reference to the proposed tests and the composition of the board of experts. This sub-committee was composed of F. C. Rice, general inspector of transportation of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway; A. M. Schoyer, general superintendent of the Northwest System, Pennsylvania Lines, west of Pittsburgh; W. G. Besler, vice-president and general manager of the Central railroad of New Jersey; A. T. Dice, general superintendent of the Philadelphia & Reading railway; E. C. Carter, chief engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, and D. C. Moon, assistant general manager of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway. The committee has tendered the commission the use of railway tracks and other facilities for conducting the tests and will co-operate further, if necessary.

The explosion of a gasoline stove in the house of J. W. McClelland of Arcadia Saturday night, caused the total destruction of the house and contents. No water was available to fight the fire.
